June Yoshida Chosen 1951 Miss Nisei Sunny Alberta

RAYMOND, Alta. — Selected from among six candidates, popular June Yoshida of Lethbridge, representing Lethbridge JCCA was crowned Miss Sunny Alberta of 1951.

As the highlighting event of the Raymond Young Buddhists' Association-sponsored fifth annual Miss Sunny Alberta Dance late last month at the Lethbridge Collegiate, Miss Yoshida was crowned by the 1950 winner, Tomiye Sasaki.

Despite unfavorable weather conditions, a large number of Niseis gathered from Calgary, Coaldale, Picture Butte, Taber, Lethbridge, Raymond and surrounding districts to support this annual social event.

Butch and Paul . . .

Two of the most interesting and unique Nisei personalities I've met in the last couple of weeks happen to be jazz tram players. Unique, because they are the only two Niseis that I know of who are making a career out of jazz. Interesting, because I happen to like jazz.

Both Montreal's Butch Watanabe and San Francisco's Paul Higaki are prototypes of the jazz musician. Butch I met at a Nisei dance in Montreal while the P. A. system was pouring out with some nauseating stuff like the Tennessee Waltz, and I met Paul coming out of the Uptown Theatre's dressing-room after he had finished a show with a Lionel Hampton band that played some noisy stuff that had little semblance to good jazz.

Funny thing, this public taste. I suppose I was about the only one, besides a few others I know, who sat through the show totally uninspired with Hampton's band crashing through their "new" version of Flying Home with all the grace and finesse of a lumbering ox. Great showmanship, perhaps, but very little in the way of good jazz or taste. Except for Hamp's solo on How High The Moon.

But like Higaki, alto-man Jerome Richardson and tenor-saxist Johnny Board told me, it's nothing but work to them. They, like most people in this world of rank commercialism, have to make a buck too. But it's a heck of a way to waste their abilities.

Butch and Paul look somewhat alike. They both peer through heavy, horn-rimmed glasses out of eyes which have seen a lot of years of jazz. Butch I hope will find what he's looking for and Paul I think has a good career ahead of him.

No Sad Songs . . . .

Of course a career in jazz is a tricky thing—a career which could lead to an ending like one of the great Dixieland clarinets, Pee Wee Russell, who was recently pictured in Life Magazine under the caption, "No Sad Songs For Me". Wine, women, and all the attendant evils of fast living was the crusher. Of course Pee Wee is still living—in a very [illegible] sort of way.

But jazz is a young, fresh, [illegible]tive art and I'm pretty sure [illegible] could use the talented horns of the two young Nisei jazzmen.

Many Not Convinced About War Outcome

TOKYO — A Japanese newspaper man, Takuji Fujii, editor of a Japanese-language newspaper in Sao Paulo, reported this week that 60 per cent of the 400,000 Japanese living in Brazil still believe that Japan won the war. The editor called for a letter-writing campaign from people in Japan to bring home the truth to their friends and relatives in Brazil.

Fujii said the widespread belief among Japanese in Brazil, nurtured by rightist elements, was that United States and not Japan, had surrendered unconditionally in 1945.

Think MacArthur Is Part Japanese

NEW YORK — In his appraisal of the political and economic situation of occupied Japan, published in a book entitled "The Riddle of MacArthur", John Gunther, world-famed author, writes that some Japanese actually think the general is partly Japanese; that his great grandmother was a Japanese woman born in Kyoto; and that his teen-age son Arthur, will some day marry a Japanese princess.

"MacArthur is admired by the Japanese," Gunther says. "He has almost become Japanese himself, particularly in the matter of self discipline.

More JC's in Vancouver, JCCA Only Organization

VANCOUVE — There is almost a daily increase in the number of Japanese in Vancouver. With the approach of the fishing season, there is evidence that there is a large number of Japanese flocking to the cost from interior and eastern points.

The Vancouver JCCA, the only Japanese Canadian organization functioning on the coast, sees the acute need of a hall that can be used as its headquarters as well as a recreational and meeting place for both the Issei and Nisei.

The chapter is seeking such a place.

New CARE Forms Now Available

It has been announced by the National JCCA Office that new CARE parcels for Japan Order Forms are now available from all JCCA local chapters, The New Canadian, National JCCA Office and Canadian CARE 73 Albert Street, Ottawa.

Assistance was given by the National JCCA to Canadian CARE in the preparation of the Japanese translation for these forms.

CARE parcels for Japan cover Japanese Food $10.60; New Woollen Suiting $11.60; Far East Cotton $7.45 and Knitting Wool $13.75.

More Than 250 Nisei Casualties in Korea

Casualties of American soldiers of Japanese ancestry are now above the 250 mark, according to Larry Tajiri, in his weekly column in the Pacific Citizen.

Nearly 100 Niseis have died in the Korean fighting now in its tenth month. Although the casualty reports list 39 Nisei dead to date, 62 are reported missing of whom the majority must be presumed dead.

Oct. 1, 1950, census placed Japan's population at 83,199,637.

Hamilton JC's Play Host To CNUC, Mayor Jackson, Other Officials Present

HAMILTON — The Japanese-Canadian community of Hamilton played host on Friday, April 13, to the regular monthly meeting of the Canadian National Unity Council, and among the 300 guests present were Hamilton's mayor, councillors, C.N.U.C. executive, and members of many local ethnic groups.

The C.N.U.C. was organized to unite various racial groups to further all phases of good citizenship. On this basis, many different nationalities meet to discuss their problems and try to arrive at a sound solution together.

It is the practice of the organization to have each member group act as host to the regular meetings in turn. The Japanese-Canadians of Hamilton were so honoured on this night and the C.N.U.C.'s largest attendance since its inception was present.

The speakers for the evening were Mr. J. H. Mooradian, president of the C.N.U.C., Mayor Lloyd Jackson of Hamilton, and Mr. Wes Hyodo of the Hamilton JCCA. Mr. Hyodo reflected on the attitude of the Japanese-Canadians towards Citizenship and his speech was met very well.

With the assistance of the local Young Buddhist Society, a most enjoyable program of Japanese odoris and vocals was presented under the supervision of Mrs. C. Izumi.

Five Nisciettes gave a most beautiful and graceful interpretation of Japanese odoris which received tremendous applause and calls for encores. One of the most well received performances of the evening was a solo odori performed by Miss Harumi Nagano who was brought back for curtain calls. Mr. Oscar Kawai also contributed to the entertainment with two popular Japanese vocals. The whole program was praised extensively by all.

Sakura, A Vessel That's A Part Of Many Nations

By TED OTSU

VANCOUVER, B. C. — MV. Sakura is more than an ultra-modern deepsea motorship. It's a small example of what nations can do when they decide to pull together.

Sitting at the CNR pier today in the stream-lined cargo-passenger vessel, flying the flag of Liberia, an international ship if ever there was one.

MV. Sakura, only a few months old, was built in Japan for Norwegian owners. It is powered by a diesel engine made by Japanese workers from German patents and is manned by a mixed but enthusiastic crew of Scandinavians.

The vessel is the first ship built by Yokohama yards for foreign owners since before World War II. She is at the command of Capt. J. Boe Aslaksen but is the protege of Chief Engineer Torger Dahl.

Mr. Dahl was sent to Japan before the ship was built, watched the first plate go down and remained in Japan for more than a year to supervise her construction.

The vessel carries 12 passengers in luxury cabins and saloons, also has special accomodation for 90, which it still has to use.

To the crew of the MV. Sakura, the ship is a "cherry blossom" ship and it's likely to stay that way as long as it's afloat. Her name is Japanese for cherry blossoms. The entire officer and passenger accommodation is finished in an abundance of rich deep maroon Japanese cherry wood, and in the main saloon stands an expensive doll statue of "Sakura" the Japanese lass who danced the first "cherry blossom dance" many years ago.

Paul Higaki

Young Man With A Horn

By KEN ADACHI

A TROMBONE, it says in Webster's Dictionary, is a powerful brass instrument with a cupped mouthpiece; the slide is movable and by it the player can control the length of the vibrating column and thus produce any pitch within the compass of the instrument.

And when Paul Higaki, American Nisei trombonist with the Lionel Hampton Orchestra, stepped up to the spotlight for a feature solo on the opening number of Hamp's "New 1951 Revue", he really gave evidence to the definition. With Hampton's blasting 19-piece band surging behind him, Higaki took off on his solo, a frenetic and unique high-note kick on which he ascended a terrific peak of stratospheric heights on the instrument.

Higaki's specialty is called "whistling" [illegible] and "triple C's" and needless to say, his solo work really impresses the audience.

JAPANESE AGENCY IN OTTAWA

After an absence of nearly ten years, an official Japanese government agency will once again be set up in Canada. This office will be opened in the near future in Ottawa, the Department of External Affairs announced. It is possible that similar offices will be established in other Canadian cities such as Vancouver and Toronto.

Unlike legations or consulates, this agency will not enjoy diplomatic status and will confine itself to routine matters involving Japanese nationals residing in Canada and function as a Japanese trade bureau serving as an information outlet for Canadians seeking trade data.

The agency will be of special interest and benefit to Isseis who have maintained property or other connections with Japan. It should facilitate their obtaining information on matters pertaining to their interests there.

Although the agency has little power and its work will be cut and dried, it undoubtedly is the beginning of the restoration of ties between two nations washed by the Pacific. Any news that normal relations between Japan and Canada is to be resumed is a welcome one.

A LESSON FOR JAPAN

To the Japanese who had warmed up to regard General Douglas MacArthur as a benevolent and exalted conqueror and a fixture of the occupation, news of his dismissal was no less stunning than had the Japanese diet deposed the Emperor. Only the crushing defeat of Japan's military invincibility was more of an incredible jolt to the people of Japan.

In a country where uniforms and brass buttons have been supreme for so long, it is difficult for the Japanese to fathom how and why a man of such military prominence, a general who is the supreme commander of the Allied occupation forces in Japan and the United Nations forces in Korea, can be ousted. This was something new and strange to a people who have witnessed a long line of cabinets being made and broken at the behest of militarists.

This should be a lesson to the Japanese who are slowly absorbing the tenets of democracy that elected or civilian authority must take precedence over military authority and that no man despite his brilliance or distinction of service can ignore or flaunt this higher authority. Aside from the variance of fundamental policy in Korea, MacArthur's firing was the result of his insubordination that he could not bow to his nation's constitutional superior.

PASSING THRU

Never having interviewed a person before, and in both cases, I found out little about their life-stories but got all wrapped up in discussing jazz. Moral of that is that you have to look at things in a cold, disinterested way.

What really amused me is the language that Higaki and the rest of the Hamptones speak while talking among themselves. It's a distinctly different language of their own which left me slightly bewildered.

It was real cool, man.

More Westernized

"Japanese mothers are becoming so westernized that they are even forming Parent-Teacher Associations", the Diocesan Board of the Women's Association of New Westminster, B. C., was told by Miss Marie Foerstel, a missionary who is on furlough from Japan.

Miss Foerstel in addressing the meeting in St. Helen's Hall, said that since going to Japan after World War II, she has noticed considerable changes in Japanese economy and customs. Rations on all food except rice have been taken off, and the average Japanese is getting by although there are no luxuries.

School-life is different. Children at school are taught to think for themselves. All the girls are taught domestic science and there is a keen interest in learning how to speak English.

Miss Foerstel, however, spoke with regret that there were no candidates training at present for work in Japan.

Japan Wants MacArthur

Japanese editor of the Nippon Times, Kenji Shiba, in a telephone interview with the Oregon Journal, a publication in Portland, Oregon, stated that the U. S. government will be asked by petition that General MacArthur be left in control of Japan following his recent dismissal by President Truman.

Mr. Shiba said that the petitions are being prepared for circulation. "Tokyo very deeply regrets the discharge of General MacArthur", the Journal quoted him as saying.

MAN WITH A HORN

At the climax of the show which was typical Hampton fare—wild, fast, and frenzied, spotted by brilliant, driving solos by the famous vibes-playing leader—Higaki and the band marched up and down the aisles of the theatre on a frantic finish of "Flying Home", sending the audience home hot and bothered.

Off Stage

But Higaki, off stage and across a restaurant coffee table, is a calm, serious, and very friendly Nisei who wears dark, thick horn-rimmed glasses with his casual clothes.

Higaki likes to talk about music, just like most jazz musicians, and in this respect, he is very unique. His tastes are amazingly varied, that is, he likes almost every kind of music—from classics to mickey mouse stuff or Wagner to Guy Lombardo.

It is unusual for any jazz musician to even listen to bands like Lombardo's which feature a smaltzy dancing music but like Paul says, "There's only one Lombardo and he plays a very soothing type of music". In fact Paul relates that when the Hampton band played at New York's Bop City when the nightcrie used to be one of the spots where one could listen to good jazz for an admission of 98 cents, he used to go over to the Capitol Theatre down the street to catch the Sammy Kaye stage show in the morning.

The Dallas Symphony offered Paul a job just before he joined Hampton so Higaki is capable of playing symphony of which he has a great liking.

Jim Crow

In travelling with the Negro band, the Nisei trombonist says that one has to expect a little discrimination everywhere in the various cities and regions that the band touches in its one-night stands or theatre dates. "It all depends on the way you look at it", says Paul. "If you know you're going to meet discrimination, then it's a different matter. Then you're prepared for it".

Strangely enough, the states where he has met the most discrimination are the Northwest states like Montana, Idaho, or Utah and especially Salt Lake City, Utah, where there is apparently a clash of different creeds and religions. Before he joined Hamp, Paul used to play under the name of "Paul Lee" because it was too difficult to get a job otherwise.

'Frisco Product

The Golden Gate City, San Francisco, is Higaki's hometown where he first learned how to use the slide trombone at the tender age of 11. Last July when the Hampton crew played an engagement at the city, a special "Paul Higaki Night" was held in honor of the local product who is the only Nisei in a big-name band.

Music, apparently, has been all of Paul's career. From high school bands in Frisco, to organizing the Stardusters in the relocation camp during the war, a brief stint in army training, and his first professional jobs with the Lee Williams and Bob Criss bands in the Midwest.

Next he joined up with the Allen Reed all-girl band which was touring the south. In this unusual capacity, Higaki both played and helped in managing the band. "Girl musicians are too tempermental", Paul says with a shake of his head. He then came home to Frisco to form his own band and then finally joined the Hampton brass back in June 1949.

One of the boys

It is very obvious that Paul is really "one of the boys" with the band as well as with Hampton whom he calls "Gates". Down at the wings of Uptown's back-stage it seemed so. And it is apparent that this Nisei, just like the way he blows his terrific high notes will reach many more high notes in his musical career.

"Negress" and "Jewess"

"A teacher called me on the telephone to ask why the colored people dislike the term 'Negress.' Naturally, I disclaimed any ability to speak for the entire group. But my acquaintance with its thinking leads me to believe that it heartily disapproves of the use of the word.

"My experience with it dates far back. In fact, I have to lug it back from the historical dust bin. You see, gender was an important subject in English when I was in grammar school. I was proud of myself when I could glibly recite the feminine gender of such words as drake, fox, gander, ram—all the feminine forms being entirely different words.

"But where the female is distinguished by adding the suffix -ess to the masculine form, as in leopard, lion, tiger, I ran into some knotty questions. In my grammar text, among the names for racial, national and religious groups, only those of the Jew and the Negro had the feminine form in -ess . . .

"Years later . . . I found my answers. H. W. Fowler in A Dictionary of Modern English Usage made it clear that: 'Gender is a grammatical term only. To talk of persons or creatures of the masculine or feminine gender, meaning of the male or female sex, is either a jocularity (permissible or not according to context) or blunder.'

"About the -ess feminine George O. Curme's College English Grammar says: 'There is a derogatory touch in it which makes it unsuitable when we desire to show respect, but on the other hand appropriate when we desire to speak slightingly'." — J. A. Atkins in The Denver Post.

The Limit Is 200

As much a part of our daily papers as the classifieds, comics, how to play bridge and advice to the lovelorn, are the crosswords. They have their devotees just like the followers of Hialeah or Jamaica results, Major Hoople and tomorrow's forecast.

To seriously dab at those little squares, you've got to be an authority on Greek mythology and knowledge of [illegible] and herbs won't hurt.

At the same time, it's an education, a vocabulary builder. A new world of words is ushered before you. For instance an Arabian wine glass is an "aba", winglike part "ala", collection of sayings "ana" and Brazilian macaw "ara".

Know what "one who has on" is? According to 46 down, it's "wearer".

You'll learn that Egyptian sun god is "ra", Roman god of the underworld "dis", goddess of infatuation "ate", goddess of earth "ge", and god of war "ares".

You'll find that theres a lot of two letter words that you never knew existed like whirlwind "oe", mulberry "al", sloth "ai", daybreak (combining form) "eo". You'll brush up your Japanese with 'sen', 'yen', 'rin', 'obi', and 'aina'.

と、書家は音樂堂の入口に立つてゐて伸子に聲をかけた

相變らず、快活で、ひとりで樂しさうであつた。

「高野夫人が、もう來さうなものだと思つて待つてゐるんですがね。大株主ですから、敬意を表さないと、いかん。」

伸子は自分も待つてゐる事にした。夕方の薄明りの裡に公園の樹々の新緑が渦を卷きながら盛り上つてゐる色が鮮かであつた。着飾つた男女が、絶え間なく階段を昇つて來た

「岡部つて男は、好い青年ですなあ。」

と、書家は、ひいきを明らかにした。――

「あれでね、文化も何も、人間の貧乏をなくする工夫をしなければ決して始まらないのだと氣がついてくれれば、もつといいのだ。しかし、眞面目で動搖のないのは近頃珍らしくいい若い者だ。ちらくらする奴らかりでばすからね。」

左衛子が純白の洋裝で、段を昇つて來た。

「やあ。」

と、大きな體格の書家は、手を上げて見せて、

「どうも どうも。」

左衛子は、伸子にはほ笑んで見せて、

「もう、まるで反ね。でも、よくいらしつて下さつたわ。おいそがしいのおやなかつたの。」

と二階への階段を並んで昇りながら、左衛子が尋ねた。

それに答へながら、自分も妙に思つたくらゐに自分と一緒に左衛子がゐることが、京都にゐる父親のことを一そう鮮明に胸に感じて來るやうな工合であつた。母親から禁じられたばかりのものだつたせいかも知れない。蘭の花を胸につけてゐる左衛子が、形のいい體そのもので、父親のことを暗示してゐるやうな心持がした。自分よりも、左衛子が父親の消息を知つてゐるからだと信じられ、そのことが憎いやうな心持さへ動いた。

我に復つて、改めて、こんな華やかな人波の中に入つても佐衛子が美しいのを見守つた

「歸りにどこかへ行つて、冷いものでも飲みませう。」

「冷い麥酒を、とおつしやるんですな。」

如何にも都會の夜に聞くものらしい、こんな會話を聞いてゐながら伸子は、その間にも父親が自分の胸に占めてしまつた位置が、もう動かせないものになつてゐるばかりか刻々と大きくなつて行くやうなのが、不安であつた。

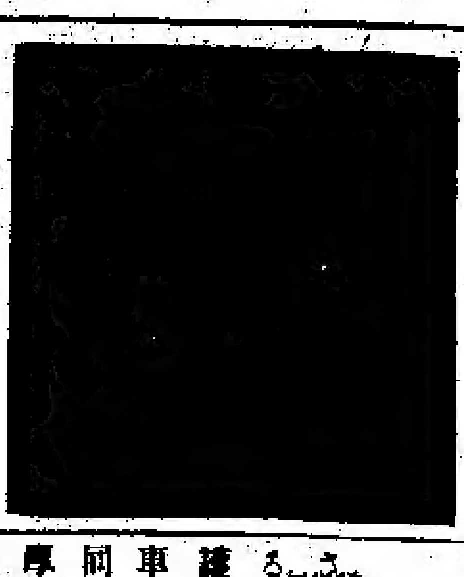
暗殺は想像も及ばぬ



西ヨーロッパの人々の間ではソ連圏内に今のスターリン政權にひどい目にあわされている者が多くいる、ということが常識となつている、實際にウクライナ地方では反抗運動が行われているということは周知のごとく傳えられている、こんな状態だからスターリン首相の命をねらう者はあるはずだが、スターリンが政權をとつてから廿數年間、無事に命を全うしているのは何らかの理由があるに違いない

モスコーの米大使館で書記官として六年間勤務したエルスウォース・レイランド氏は最近米國の一雑誌に「どうしてスターリンを殺すことはできないか」という記事を書いている、それによると

先ずスターリン首相は壁の厚さ十二フイト高さ四十フイトという中世紀の城であるクレムリン宮に住んでいる。この宮殿はソ連の秘密政治警察の親衛隊により守られており、しかもこの護衛隊は高射砲や大砲まで備えている、だからスターリ首相が宮殿を離れるときをねらわなければならない

マカーサー元帥解任の背後の事情につきクリスチャンサイエンス紙は社說の中で次のようなことを指摘している

▲マカーサー元帥とツルーマン大統領の意見の相違は三つの問題をふくんでいる。第一はアジアとヨーロッパに關することだ。早くも一九四二年にマカーサーは太平洋戰を强行するために米の大軍を彼の手に委ねるべきだと考えていた。今日では共產主義の主要努力はアジアに集注されていると彼は信じている。これらの點で元帥は大統領及その相談役ばかりでなく、米國の非共產聯合國の殆ど全部とも意見を異にしている

日本では新聞が「黒ワク」で社說

（そうです、日本で言つたら棕櫚、陽に焦げた肌の表現なのです。）

「最後にエスキモーのカヌーに乗つた漁師たち。これで私が持つてきた全部であります

Metro YP Sponsoring Shuttle Wind-Up Dance

The Metropolitan Nisei Fellowship Group in conjunction with the Badminton Club is sponsoring a badminton wind up dance to conclude a very successful season. This dance is being held on Saturday, April 21, from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

Everyone is urged to come early and bring their friends and to enjoy an evening of dancing in the spacious Metropolitan gym. A very special invitation is extended to ex YP members. Admission will be 75 cents per person.

Of special interest to the Metropolitan Badminton Club members: those who wish to play badminton may do so in the gym from 6-8 p.m. before the dance.

Big Shuttle Tourney Starts This Weekend

The big shuttle attraction of the year, the Fourth Annual Nisei Open Badminton Tournament is scheduled to start April 21-28 at the Metropolitan Gym with out-of-towners invading Toronto to vie for the trophies.

Although none of the Montreal shuttlers will be in attendance, a London contingent under Johnny Nagata is expected to appear in full force. Three Hamilton players, Yosh and Nobby Tonogai and Tosh Kitagawa, visited Toronto last week and gave a preview which showed that they will be potent factors in the coming Open.

Entries in all doubles events, men's, ladies, and mixed, are steadily trickling in but chairman Mi Akiyama wishes others who are still hesitating to get together with their prospective partners and send their entries in. He reminds players who are still undecided that this post-season tourney is the only chance to show what they can do in competition after winter-long practice.

Entertainment chairman Tats Hamada will be in charge of the Wind-Up Dance at the Metro Gym on April 28. The public is invited to see the finals of all events which will take place from [illegible]. Tickets are now in the hands of the club members.

Nisei Club Manager of the Chicago Cubs

The scene is the second floor dressing room at Wrigley Field in Los Angeles where the Chicago Cubs are completing their local spring training stand with a final game against the St. Louis Browns. The players have just come in from their pre-game batting practice and are loafing around reading the Sporting News, changing into dry uniforms, signing autographs and relaxing until their call for infield practice. Sportswriters and photographers wander about the room which is cluttered with equipment and trunks.

The busiest person around is Yosh Kawano, clubhouse manager of the Cubs. Dashing from one room to the next, he attends to the numerous requests fired at him by the ballplayers.

Relaxing for a few minutes on one of the equipment trunks and dressed in a white T-shirt and faded blue denim trousers with a Cub cap set jauntily on his head, Yosh relit his cigar and told us a little of his past and how he happened to get into this unusual occupation.

Although he admits he's not much of a ballplayer, he has always had a keen interest in the game and in 1939, while attending school, he got a job as a batboy with the Hollywood Stars.

He stayed with them until the war when he was evacuated to [illegible]. After a brief stay in camp, he relocated to Chicago and hung around the White Sox ballpark in Chicago's southside until he landed a job as batboy. He served with the Sox for a number of years, watching such American League greats as Joe DiMaggio, Ted Williams and Bill Dickey.

Yosh then switched his affiliation to the Northside and became [illegible] for the [illegible] National League entry, the Chicago Cubs. He is now in his sixth year with the club and [illegible] veteran Phil Cavarretta, [illegible] Andy Lotshaw and a [illegible] Yosh can boast as [illegible] of the Cub organization.

His duties consist mainly of attending to the needs of the ballplayers and taking charge of the club equipment. Spring training poses a special headache to Yosh since the club carries so many extra players and due to the club's exhibition schedule which takes them from town to town.

The club carries all of its equipment in 17 large trunks which Yosh must get packed and sent to the next town in time for the next day's game. He must consult the train schedule to get the equipment aboard ahead of the players, make arrangements for transporting them from the train station to the ball park and be there himself in time to break out the equipment before the game.

He is well treated by the ballplayers but among his close friends, he singled out Phil Cavaretta as his idol.

"He's not an outstanding star, but he's consistent and always in there hustling. They say he's old, but he always turns out for the season in top shape because he keeps himself in condition."

Other favorites he lists are Hank Sauer, the slugging outfielder and Bill Serena, regular thirdsacker for the Cubs.

Asked what his greatest thrill in baseball was, he unhesitatingly said, "Receiving the All-Star watch from National League president Ford Frick." In the annual baseball classic last year, Yosh was selected by senior circuit manager, Burt Shotton, to handle the clubhouse chores for the National Leaguers. He was one of the 30 participants to receive the engraved wrist watch.
